Tibet

Spring in the Land of Blossoms

雪域桃花春

Snow Mountain Blessings | Peach Blossom Grove | Glaciers and Sacred Lakes | Holy City Culture

It's not just travel, it's an immersive Tibetan way-of-life experience

01 | Enter Tibet at a Lower Altitude, Begin with Peach Blossoms and Blessings

Yani National Wetland Park | Sejila Pass

Begin your Tibetan journey in the gentle spring landscapes of Nyingchi. Admire the meeting of rivers at Yani Wetland, then ascend Sejila Pass for views of Mount Namcha Barwa, where fluttering prayer flags and traditional blessings create a memorable start.

Mount Namjagbarwa

China's most beautiful snow mountain, known as "the father of all mountains in Tibet."

Sejila Pass

Where snow mountains meet prayer flags, and the soul meets blessings.

At 4,728 meters above sea level, Sejila Pass is one of the best viewpoints for Mount Namjagbarwa. Write your wishes on wind horse flags, and let every fluttering flag carry a blessing.

Experience scattering wind horse papers, letting your blessings drift with the mountain breeze into the sky.

Yani National Wetland Park

The hidden Spring view in the highland wetlands

Spring brings a beautiful transformation to the wetlands, where wild peach blossoms line the riverbanks. Misty valleys, winding blue waters and snow-capped mountains create a refreshing highland landscape.

Niyang River

Follow the Niyang River Scenic Belt and enjoy valley views, snow mountain reflections, and peaceful highland countryside scenery, experiencing the purity and tranquility of Tibet's "Jiangnan."

02 | A Springtime Journey Along G318, Through Peach Blossoms & Mountain Forests

Lulang Forest | Zhaxigang Village | Highland Pastures | Gangyunshan Forest

Follow G318 through a beautiful spring landscape, where wild peach blossoms brighten river valleys and traditional Tibetan villages. From Lulang Forest to Gangyun Spruce Forest, fresh greenery, flowing streams and snow-capped peaks create an enchanting journey through Tibet's springtime scenery.

Lulang Forest

Tibet's natural oxygen bar

Spring breathes new life into Lulang, where fresh greenery spreads across the forested slopes. Wild peach blossoms add delicate colour to the landscape, framed by tranquil lakes and distant snow-capped peaks.

Zhaxigang Village

Spring turns Zhaxigang Village into a charming countryside retreat, with traditional Tibetan homes, blooming peach trees and lush pastures set against a beautiful backdrop of snow-capped mountains.

Gangyunshan Forest

A real-life forest wonderland

Hidden at an altitude of around 3,700 meters, this secret forest is filled with dense fir trees, ancient trunks, and hanging moss. Walking through the forest feels like stepping into a scene from a fantasy movie.

03 | Tibetan Culture, A Gentle Journey Home

Gala Peach Blossom Valley | Ranwu Lake | Laigu Glacier Basum Tso | Yamdrok Lake

Blue and pink is the colour that brings Tibet closest to heaven.
Gala Peach Blossom Valley charms with pink spring blooms and quaint village scenery. Ranwu Lake mirrors snow-capped peaks and autumn forests, Laigu Glacier reveals hints of blue ice, Basum Tso glows like jade, and Yamdrok Lake delivers a breathtaking finale in endless highland blue.

Ranwu Lake

The Himalayan snow peaks watch over the world in timeless silence. The lake awakens in the morning mist, rippling with jade-colored light. Clouds drift across the ridges, writing ever-changing poetry on the water.

Gala Peach Blossom Valley

Fall into the Tears of a Fairy

A highlight of the Nyingchi Peach Blossom Festival, Gala Village is famed for its beautiful spring blossoms. Each year, wild peach trees paint the valley in soft pink hues, creating a charming landscape framed by traditional villages and distant snow-capped mountains.

04 | Tibetan Culture, A Gentle Journey Home

Galong Palace Ruins | Potala Palace | Jokhang Temple | Barkhor Street

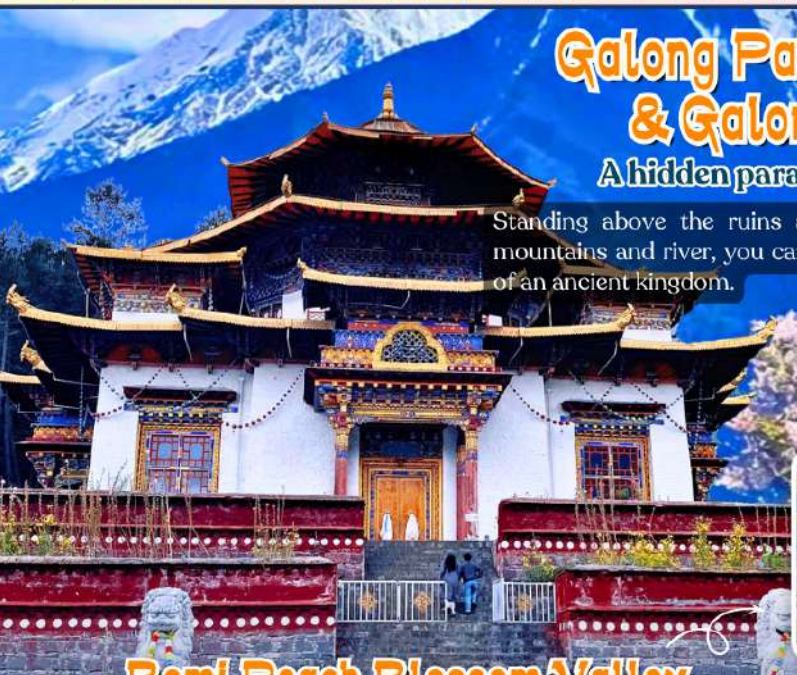

From the ancient Tubo royal legacy to the glow of Lhasa at night, and finally to the relaxed charm of Chengdu. At Galong Palace Ruins, feel the echoes of a thousand-year-old kingdom hidden deep in the forest. Arrive at Potala Palace, Jokhang Temple, and Barkhor Street, where you can experience the depth of Tibetan culture and faith. End the journey with a rooftop drink in Chengdu, giving this highland adventure a light and relaxing finale.

Galong Palace Ruins & Galong Lake

A hidden paradise in Bomi

Standing above the ruins and looking out toward the mountains and river, you can almost feel the atmosphere of an ancient kingdom.

Bomi Peach Blossom Valley

Spring paints Bomi Peach Blossom Valley in soft shades of pink and white, with wild peach blossoms blooming along the lakeside. The emerald waters of Galang Lake mirror the surrounding blossoms, lush forests and distant snow-capped mountains, creating a beautiful contrast of colours.

Potala Palace

A place to follow your faith

Located at the summit of Lhasa, Potala Palace is a symbol of Tibetan Buddhism and the spiritual heart of snowland civilization.

Entering Potala Palace is not merely stepping into an ancient palace, but entering a profound dialogue with a thousand years of faith.

Barkhor Street

Where prayer wheels meet the rhythm of daily life in Tibet.
